

BIDEN: APPLY YOUR STANDARD STOP THE PIPELINES

One year ago, President Biden killed the dangerous Keystone XL pipeline. Biden created a new standard in judging fossil fuel pipelines: follow science, apply a climate test, and respect environmental justice by listening to those of us who live in the pipeline's path.

One year later, we can confidently say that the administration applied the Biden Standard exactly one time.

The Biden administration is allowing dangerous tarsands, oil, fracked gas, and carbon pipelines to move forward even though they all fly in the face of science, due process, and advance a climate crisis. It's time for the President to honor the promise he made in his campaign and follow the Biden Standard he put in place.
